

my love to my dear children from her mother

The name of the Agent of Fisher Son & Co. Tho: Charlton publishers of the Engraving of Eliz: Fry 76 State Street Boston my sister has sent over a copy of the London Weekly Evangelist to thy address it contains a long account of Edw: New Kent Road 11 mo 18 1845 we suppose by her Brother Edw: Fry first published in the Norfolk News my sister thinks if published for your sale ^{as a copy of} with enclosed, it might just now sell well My dear friend

We are disappointed my dear Brother George and myself that the publisher of the likeness of my dear benevolent Friend the late E Fry would not furnish us with similar representations at the price we considered he should do - but he has said he will do so in a liberal way at Boston where he has a correspondent. I believe if you think they are likely to sell well - the price if here my brother thinks a number should be at the rate of £ each - if they are liberal and as the time is very short I write by this Post to say if the enclosure under the seal will furnish you with a few to use it for that purpose or for any else that will bring gain for the cause I regret my letter was detained at the Post Office from the irregularity of the Market - I hope the few things I sent you will come safe to hand I think them priced too high but I gave way in judgement wishing with a true heart the best success to this righteous cause in which my family unite I remain thy friend in affectionate regards
